Statement from President David Miles on FEMA Funding for University of Iowa Flood Damage

U.S. Senator Tom Harkin today announced the funding of more than $80 million in FEMA disaster relief for eastern Iowa. Of this amount, $71.6 million has been designated for flood recovery efforts at the University of Iowa.

The Board of Regents is very grateful for the tireless efforts of Senator Harkin, Senator Grassley, Governor Culver, Iowa's congressional delegation, and the Iowa legislature, in pursuing these vital flood recovery dollars for the University. We will continue our work in the many months ahead with FEMA officials, and the University's insurance provider, FM Global, to meet the additional flood recovery needs of the University of Iowa.
