Policy and Operations Officer, Iowa Board of Regents

Dear Ann McCarthy:

Governor Branstad, Regent President Craig Lang, and Regent Pro-Tem Bruce Rastetter have twisted the role of Iowa's public universities to serve private interests rather than the public good. Corporate corruption inside our public institutions by our public officials is not acceptable.

I call upon the Regents Transparency Task Force to:

- 1) develop a clear ethics complaint process to enforce the Regents ethics policy
- 2) mandate public comment at all Regents meetings
- 3) require additional public hearings four times a year in all four congressional districts
- 4) end the revolving door between public institutions and private corporations.

Can't wait for the next election day!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Thanks,

Judy Walls

Policy and Operations Officer, Iowa Board of Regents

Dear Ann McCarthy:

Governor Branstad, Former President Craig Lang, and newly elected Regents President Bruce Rastetter have twisted the role of Iowa's public universities to serve private interests rather than the public good. Corporate corruption inside our public institutions by our public officials is not acceptable.

I call upon the Regents Transparency Task Force to:

1) develop a clear ethics complaint process to enforce the Regents ethics policy 2) mandate public comment at all Regents meetings 3) require additional public hearings four times a year in all four congressional districts 4) end the revolving door between public institutions and private corporations.

Thanks,

Pam Deichmann

Dear Ann McCarthy:

As a University of Iowa alumni I'm sick of Rastter and his corporate buddies trying to run things at the Regents. Your taskforce's next meeting must bring real results towards reforming business as usual and increasing public input and participation in decision-making.

Governor Branstad, Former President Craig Lang, and newly elected Regents President Bruce Rastetter have twisted the role of Iowa's public universities to serve private interests rather than the public good. Corporate corruption inside our public institutions by our public officials is not acceptable.

I call upon the Regents Transparency Task Force to:

- 1) develop a clear ethics complaint process to enforce the Regents ethics policy
- 2) mandate public comment at all Regents meetings
- 3) require additional public hearings four times a year in all four congressional districts
- 4) end the revolving lobby door between public institutions and private corporations.

Let's get this done. I don't trust Rastetter sitting on the board without reform.

Thanks,

Having Bruce Rastetter as the newly acting President leaves real concern for me after his role with Agrisol in the land grab attempt in Tanzania. Peddling his position on the Board of Regents to co-opt a state university has given us our state a black eye.

This leaves our Board of Regents suspect in the eyes of the public and reflects political and corporate cronyism. Bruce Rastetter hurts the ability of this state to recover a sense of trust and reliability to everyday people.

Dear Ann McCarthy:

Governor Branstad, Former President Craig Lang, and newly elected Regents President Bruce Rastetter have perverted the role of Iowa's public universities to serve private interests. Isn't it the Board's duty to promote the public good? Corporate corruption inside our public institutions by our public officials is not acceptable. It is contrary to their duty and what is entrusted to them, and it is not to promote corporate gains at everyone's expense, except that of the Board.

I respectfully urge the Regents Transparency Task Force to:

- 1) Define and develop a clear ethics complaint process to enforce the Regents ethics policy
- 2) Mandate public comment at all Regents meetings
- 3) Require additional public hearings four times a year in all four congressional districts
- 4) Put an end the revolving door between public institutions and private corporations.

You are charged with the responsibility of insuring transparency in all the Regents decision making processes. Please do what you are entrusted to do. Protect academic excellence by prohibiting outside corporate influence and pressures by which said corporations will profit, at the expense of academic freedom.

Thank you
