Executive Director, Iowa Board of Regents

Dear Mr. Donley:

The fifth annual Research in the Capitol is returning to the Iowa Statehouse this spring. Undergraduate students from the three Regents universities will present their research in the rotunda for a day dedicated to "Research in the Capitol." The event celebrates undergraduates learning by doing in a variety of research fields and is a collaboration between the honors programs of Iowa State University, The University of Iowa, and The University of Northern Iowa.

Over sixty students will display research pursued with their faculty mentors. Poster presentations let the students share specifics of their work with state officials and reporters while discussing how research enriches their education, guides their careers, and contributes to the state of Iowa.

"Research in the Capitol" will take place from 11:30 am to 1:00 pm on Thursday, March 25, 2010 in the First Floor Rotunda. President Pro Tem Jack Evans will provide opening remarks at 11:30 am. The students would be thrilled if you could join us for a brief time! This event is organized by the UI Center for Research by Undergraduates: robert-kirby@uiowa.edu or 319-335-1684. Please let me know if you are able to attend, and feel free to direct questions to me.

Sincerely,

Robert F. Kirby, Ph.D.
