IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY PROPOSED NAMING - BERGSTROM INDOOR TRAINING FACILITY AND THE FOOTBALL TRAINING FACILITY

Action Requested: Consider approval of Iowa State University's request to name the combined facilities of the Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility and the Football Training Facility as the Bergstrom Football Complex.

Executive Summary: Iowa State University requests approval to name the combined facilities of the Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility and the Football Training Facility (FTF) as the Bergstrom Football Complex to honor Steve and Debbie Bergstrom who made the lead gift of $2,000,000 for the FTF project. The Bergstroms were also the lead donors for the construction of the $10 million Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility (Indoor).

Iowa State University will complete construction of the FTF in the fall of 2012. The FTF is an addition to the Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility, which opened for football practice in March 2004. This facility, for which the Board approved the naming in October 2002, provides a year-round indoor practice facility for football, softball and soccer. The addition (FTF) is adjacent along the east wall of the Indoor Training Facility. The two facilities directly connect at multiple locations, allowing the two projects to perform as a complex to serve the football program. The naming of the complex recognizes the Bergstrom's gifts to both projects.

FTF is a 60,000 square foot addition which will include coaches offices, position meeting rooms, players and coaches locker rooms, players' lounge, an amphitheater-style team room with permanent seating for 150, strength and conditioning facilities, a training room with a hydrotherapy area, and a full-service equipment and laundry room. The Board approved the project in June 2011.

Additional information is available from the Board Office.
